

Families, individuals, young and old—everyone needs a helping hand now and then.

People working in the Human Services Cluster provide everything from mental and spiritual counsel to physical training and financial advice. Childcare caregiver, school counselor, barber, cosmetologist, consumer advocate—these are just a few of the diverse jobs available. There are a variety of ways to get the training you need to succeed in this cluster, all the way from high school classes to specialized programs and four-year colleges.

Faster than average employment growth coupled with high turnover should create numerous job opportunities in this cluster.

Other Career Possibilities:

Psychiatrist, Psychologist, Childcare Worker,
Social Worker, Employment Specialists,
Substance Abuse Specialist